

ROOSEVELT RETURNS TO SHORE SUNDAY

Will Take Special Train to Washington

Miami, Fla., April 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt decided today to end his southern water fishing trip late Sunday or early Monday morning.

He informed Marvin H. McIntyre, a secretary, he would return to the Florida coast at the most convenient port aboard the Destroyer Farragut and proceed to the capital aboard a special train.

McIntyre said the plans to wind up the annual fishing cruise was in keeping with previous intentions of Mr. Roosevelt.

A naval seaplane, which returned today with mail from the President, reported his plans and brought word that he has had a fine cruise and excellent fishing.

Mr. Roosevelt was off little San Salvador, just north of Cat Island today.

By Sunday or Monday, it is possible the President could be further north along the coast and the point of his debarkation was undecided.

Starting out 10 days ago, the President has reported a sunburn and real relaxation in the outdoor life.

Roosevelt Returns to Shore Sunday

Clipped By:
C_St_Reed
Oct 3, 2024